

Several allied organizations, including Fair Courts Now, will communicate with North Carolinians about the records of sitting judges, including Supreme Court Justice Allison Riggs and Court of Appeals Judge Jefferson Griffin. This communication will include:

- 4 flights of mail to educate North Carolinians on sitting judges' records and public statements that may impact abortion access and other issues related to personal freedom.
- Digital communications (est. $500k) within the Raleigh and Greensboro media markets
- Texting program
